WASHINGTON NEWS NOTES

RUMORS OF HON. S. COX'S RESIGNATION AND RETURN TO CONGRESS.

Better Able to Serve His Country in the Halls of Legislation Than in Constantinople—Two Prominent Newspapers to be Sued for Libel—National Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—The Post this morning says: "It may almost be considered a settled thing that Hon. S. Cox will shortly resign his position as United States minister to Turkey and seek re-election to congress. A prominent representative in this city has received a letter from him, in which he related the reluctance with which he accepted his new duty, and spoke of the pressure which has been brought to bear upon him, to come back to New York. In conclusion he expressed a desire to return. He said he would be more at home in congress, although he had been received with great honors and cordiality at the sultan's court, and he would be able to serve his country better in the national legislature, than at Constantinople. He intimated the possibility of his resignation being sent in, but did not commit himself to a definite statement."

A Hatch of Libel Suits.

BOSTON, July 8.—A Washington special to the Herald says that the butter-oil-margarine war has resulted in suits against the Cincinnati Enquirer and Pittsburgh Dispatch, in which the papers will be filed to-day. The complainant is Joseph H. Roall, president of the American Agricultural and Dairy association, and damages will be laid at $100,000 in each case. The libel consists in articles charging that the Dairyman's association is a myth, and is only used by Reall to gull farmers and dairymen out of contributions ostensibly to fight bogus butter in congress. Mr. Butler and Maj. Foster, of Virginia, have been retained for the prosecution. The Washington correspondents of the papers mentioned are also to be prosecuted under a criminal libel proceeding. Warrants for their arrest will be sworn out to-day.

The Lunatic Sent to an Asylum.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—John P. Apfel, a lunatic who went to the president's house on Saturday afternoon and created a sensation by his violence and prayers to God to give him strength to kill the president, has been sent to the lunatic asylum.

Recognizing Consuls.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—The president has recognized Gerolamo Fedeli as consular agent of Italy, at Kansas City, Mo., and Adolpho S. Calvo, consul of the Argentine Republic at New York.

SHARP PRACTICE.

How a Fort Wayne Physician Waives a Charge of Body-Snatching.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., July 8.—Dr. George C. Steiner, of the Fort Wayne College of Medicine, arrested for body-snatching from a cemetery at Delphos, Ohio, has secured his release from the custody of the Ohio sheriff on a ruling of the circuit judge, made in habeas corpus proceedings, that the writ of requisition was defective. His attorneys at once resorted to a little sharp practice, which will effectually defeat the efforts of the Ohio authorities to bring the young physician to trial.

In a justice court a friend of his filed an affidavit charging him with carrying concealed weapons. An arrest and fine resulted, and the doctor appealed the case to the circuit court, the president of the medical college signing the appeal bond. Of course there will be no haste to try this case, and so long as it is pending any attempt to carry Steiner away to Ohio on the body-snatching charge would be a contempt of court. John Letting, the man whose body was transferred to the dissecting table, is said to have been an outcast, and to have frozen to death in a hut. The body was taken away in a trunk, on the suggestion of an ex-official of Delphos, and his letter on the subject can be produced.

The Window-Glass Workers.

PITTSBURGH, July 8.—The morning session of the National Convention of Window-glass workers was occupied in routine business. An interesting statistical report on the condition of the building trade, which is closely connected with the window-glass interests, was submitted, showing that previous to the opening of the present season the building contracts throughout the country represented an aggregate value of $60,000,000. Owing to disastrous strikes this has been reduced until at the present time not more than $30,000,000 is represented. It is now asserted that the wage question was fully discussed early in the season, and that the present convention will take no action in that matter. The union committee have not as yet presented the workmen's demands to the manufacturers. The rumor that President Cline desired to withdraw arose from the fact that he had requested to be excused from presiding at the present meeting.

Freight Moving.

CHICAGO, July 8.—The Lake Shore company continues to move freight without opposition from the striking switchmen, although every train so moved has a guard of armed detectives. A train was working in the stock yards this morning and no trouble with the packers and cattlemen, the acknowledged allies of the strikers, was experienced. Almost every one in the town of Lake sympathizes with the switchmen and the new men, detectives and reporters come in for a full share of abuse. An extensive boycott has been inaugurated against all of the men who go with the train and not a tradesman in the vicinity of the stock yards will accept patronage from them. Half a dozen reporters went into a small grocery on Forty-seventh street and were informed that they could buy nothing as the people did not like it. Half a dozen restaurants and saloons extended the same reception, and it was discovered that the boycott had been made universal in the neighborhood.

Taking Charge of Everything.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 8.—John King, a desperate character from Pincknot, Ky., visited Greenwood on Sunday, and for two hours had full control of the place, shooting and cutting all he met. He left Greenwood on the train in the evening, and took charge of it, intimidating all on board, until he reached Pincknot, where he attacked Ed Polton, the conductor, cutting and slashing him in so horrible a manner before assistance could be rendered that the unfortunate man died this morning. Polton was a popular local freight conductor on the line. He leaves a wife and two small children. King is still at large, and a bloody time is expected before he can be captured.

ACCIDENT ON THE LAKE.

An Excursion Steamer Runs Down a Yacht, Off Chicago.

CHICAGO, July 8.—The excursion steamer Gazelle ran down the yacht Josie in the lake off the foot of Taylor street, at 9:30 o'clock. One of the occupants of the yacht, Mrs. Everett Wilson, was drowned. The night was dark and thick. Capt. Albion, of the steamer, says he saw no light ahead of him before the accident. There was a sudden jolt felt by everyone on the steamer, Henry Baby, the proprietor of the Gazelle, ran forward and saw a yacht plying away in a sinking condition. The Gazelle pulled up slowly toward the smaller vessel. At this time Baby saw a lantern on the yacht. In a moment women on the yacht began to scream. Life preservers were thrown from the steamer and three boats were lowered.

Before they could reach the yacht it sank in about twelve feet of water. There were five persons aboard—the crew of two sailors, Everett Wilson and wife, of 108 North State street and Mrs. Wilson's mother, Mrs. Dr. S. Lord, of Springfield, Ill. One of the sailors held Mrs. Wilson until a boat almost reached them, when he released his hold. She sank and did not reappear. Mr. Wilson and Mr. Lord were taken from the water unconscious but were soon revived. The two sailors reached shore in a small skiff attached to the yacht. Mrs. Wilson's body could not be recovered. The Gazelle at once returned to her dock at the Clark street bridge and the captain reported the accident to the customs inspector.

LYING IN A TRANCE.

Mrs. Lucinda Fast, Pronounced Dead, But Believed to be Only Sleeping.

READING, Mich., July 8.—Saturday morning Mrs. Lucinda Fast, of Woodbridge, while en route for the 4th of July celebration here, was suddenly taken ill and became unconscious. All efforts to restore her failed and a physician pronounced her dead. Preparations were made for the funeral and the supposed dead woman was placed in a coffin. The old family physician refused to believe she was dead and opened a vein in her arm and the blood flowing freely, the funeral preparations were postponed.

The lady remains in a trance-like state, however, and her case has so far puzzled the doctors. Hundreds of her friends and relatives have filled her house all day, the utmost curiosity being shown to see the body. The opinion is being expressed that Mrs. Fast is able to comprehend all that is going on around her. Her mother once passed through a similar experience and lived months to tell the agony she endured when she feared from the preparations that was going on around her that she was to be buried alive.

"MIKADO" TROUBLES.

Manager Ellsler Arrested for Producing Gilbert & Sullivan's Opera in Canada.

DETROIT, July 8.—Manager Ellsler, son of the venerable John Ellsler, actor and manager, and a brother of Effie Ellsler, recently brought out at Brighton, a Canadian suburb of Detroit, "The Mikado." Last Saturday, word was received that John Stetson, the American representative of Gilbert & Sullivan, had enjoined Mr. Ellsler. He paid no attention to this, however, and by frequent visits to this side, avoided the service of an injunction.

Manager Ellsler relaxed his vigilance, yesterday afternoon, and took a trip to Brighton. He had no sooner left the boat than a Canada bailiff escorted him to the Sandwich jail. Mr. Ellsler wore a handsome diamond pin. He was ready to give up this or anything else to get out of close confinement. A lawyer was consulted, and through his efforts Ellsler secured his release and immediately fled to this city. Besides the legal troubles which have overcome Ellsler, there are rumors of financial difficulties.

Chief Breaking-Through-the-Ice Arrested.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 8.—The arrest of Chief Breaking-Through-the-Ice has caused much commotion among the Indians in the neighborhood of Edmonton. Several consultations have taken place between these and the chiefs of the Crees, Chippewas and Bobbais. A petition, asking redress will soon be forwarded by them to Sir John MacDonald. Better provisions and clothing are demanded by them, or they will revolt. The news of Pound-makers death caused a sensation among them Monday, and the death dance was performed with all its horrible attributes. About 400 braves, covered with war paint took part. They have gotten hold of a report, which is fully confirmed that Poundmaker died of starvation caused by neglect on the part of the whites, and are furious in consequence. The mounted police force will be recruited by volunteers at once, and over 100 men will be sent to strengthen the forces at Fort McLeod, Calgary and Edmonton.

Disastrous Oil Fire.

CLEVELAND, O., July 8.—At 1:30 this morning, two tank cars containing oil exploded on the flats, at the foot of Harrison street. A half dozen cars of coal were ignited and the burning oil running down to the river set fire to the Central way bridge, which was nearly consumed. A large tank of gasoline exploded also, and for a time it looked as if a terrible conflagration was inevitable. At 2:15, the fire was under control. The loss will aggregate about $60,000. The Valley railroad depot and Clements Bros. building were also damaged to the extent of about $100,000. E. Graves, junk dealer, sustains about $1,000, and Austin's coal yard was badly damaged. Loss not learned. The Canal street bridge was also damaged to a considerable extent.

Commuted His Sentence.

JOLIET, Ill., July 8.—George Pantan, who was sentenced to be hanged at Belvidere, Ill., on the 16th, was brought to the prison yesterday to serve a life term, the governor having commuted his sentence. Pantan murdered a tenant of his named Smith, at Elgin, shooting him through a window. Twenty-four one year convicts sent down from Chicago last August were released yesterday.

GLADSTONE'S DEFEAT.

THE HOME RULE BATTLE A HOPELESS CAUSE.

One of Gladstone's Ministers Gives Up the Struggle—The Tories Still Gaining—The Cholera Spreading—The Importation of Italian Rags Forbidden—Foreign.

LONDON, July 8.—Lord Wolverton, postmaster general, upon receiving the news of the defeat of Mr. G. W. Erskine Russell, in contest for Fulham, remarked that he gave up the fight, and intimated that the main question now was whether Lord Salisbury would be obliged to constitute a government.

There is no attempt made to conceal the fact that the Ministerialists are nervous and rapidly losing heart. Mr. Gladstone's buoyant and stirring letters and telegrams to various candidates alone prevent a panic, which would result in dire disaster. Unfortunately for the hopes of the Ministerialists, who have been looking forward to a heavy Liberal vote in the agricultural districts, there are certain indications that the polling in the counties will be very light.

The Tories continue to gain. Their victories yesterday include Chester, East Bradford, Clapham, Mile-End, East Islington, and Bow and Bromley. The Gladstonians have gained Wolverhampton. The net Conservative gain at midnight was twenty-one. Messrs. Barry and Oazne, Parnellites, have been returned without opposition in Wexford and Donegal.

In Newry J. H. McCarthy, Parnellites, received 1,183 votes, and his opponent, Mr. Saunders, 716. Messrs. Ashmead Bartlett and Howard Vincent, Conservatives, and A. J. Mundella, Gladstonians, retain their seats for Sheffield, and Messrs. Illingsworth and Shaw-LeFevre, Gladstonians, for Bradford. R. Chamberlain, Unionist, brother of J. Chamberlain, retains his seat for Islington by 1,300 majority.

In the last campaign the Liberals carried the district by a majority of 1,163 in a total vote of 11,588. The case affords the instance of the greatest political change in so short a time in any election of record in England.

The Liberals are alarmed lest the Conservatives obtain an independent working majority. The totals at midnight were: Conservatives, 210; Unionists, 43; Gladstonians, 90; Parnellites, 43.

The Panama Canal.

PARIS, July 8.—M. De Lesseps told the Panama canal committee that it was possible to complete a level canal in three years, at a cost of 600,000,000 francs, but he had not yet reached a decision as to the scientific advantages of so doing. He condemned M. Jacques's plan for a canal with locks. Such a canal could only be temporary. A level canal would ultimately be required. M. Dingier, an engineer, calculated the probable annual receipts of the canal at 6,000,000 francs, or fifteen francs per ton.

In Dread of Cholera.

LONDON, July 8.—The excessively hot weather here causes a great deal of anxiety in view of the prevalence of cholera in Italy and the rumor of the spread of the disease to France and Spain. The local government board has issued orders forbidding the importation of Italian rags, and there is increased activity among the sanitary authorities.

Emigration from Germany.

BERLIN, July 8.—The total emigration from Germany from January to May, inclusive, was 83,977, which shows a large decrease from the figures for the corresponding period of 1885.

VALUABLE FRANCHISE.

A Cable Road Syndicate Secures the Passage of an Important Ordinance.

CHICAGO, July 8.—The ordinance giving LaSalle street and the tunnel to the North Side cable road syndicate was passed about midnight. All of the aldermen were present except one. A few of the objecting property owners were present, but being aware that the matter had already been decided upon, made no demonstration of disapproval.

The ordinance as passed gives to the North Chicago Street Railroad company the right to construct and operate for twenty years a double steel track railroad on Illinois street from Clark to Wells, and on LaSalle avenue and LaSalle street tunnel from Illinois street to Jackson street, and to operate the same by cable or horse power. The tracks are to be completed November 1, 1887. The company is required to keep in good condition the streets along which its tracks pass, and is required also to pay a rental of $30,000 annually for the use of the tunnel, and pave the entire tunnel with stone, keep it lighted at night in good repair, partly at its own expense and partly at the expense of the city.

Rowan County Riot.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 8.—In consequence of the riots in Rowan county the people are clamoring for the state troops and are very much disturbed because they have not been ordered. The sheriff and one of his deputies have already been fatally shot and the outlaws are in possession of the county, yet in spite of all this Adj. Gen. Castleman said to your correspondent: "So far as I know, there is no prospect of any of the men being ordered there. Every time the people up there that way get into a fight they call upon the military. Civil laws seem to be no check, but I guess they will have to look after their own quarrels this time."

Poisoned Bread.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., July 8.—James Williams, a farmer living near Canfield, and six harvesters who were working for him, ate bread baked by Mrs. Williams, who also partook of the same. Within an hour all were seized with violent pains and retching, and four of the number are in a precarious condition. The flour with which the bread was made was taken from a sack, half the contents of which had been used on previous occasions. On Sunday Williams and his wife were away leaving their house unlocked, the poison was probably placed in the flour at this time. There is no clue as yet to the mystery.

Iron Workers' Scale Signed.

PITTSBURGH, July 8.—The new iron workers' scale has been signed by all the rolling mill proprietors in the Mahoning valley, except the Mahoning Valley Iron company, and it is thought that that company will soon yield.

The prospects for the iron industry are better now than for four years. About half of the Chess, Carley & Company's nail machines started yesterday. The old force of nailers went to work, but some of them had to feed their own machines, as the feeders are still out. This makes a very bad feeling between the feeders and the nailers.

ATTEMPTED MURDER.

A Contractor Shoots His Business Rival on the Street.

WICHITA, Kan., July 8.—An attempt was made to kill J. Bickel, a contractor, by A. D. Stryker, his business rival, on the street in front of the court house. Stryker was a prominent member of the Knights of Labor, having been master workman of the Wichita lodge for some time, but at the last meeting he was for some cause expelled. He accused Bickel and G. D. Caldwell as being instrumental in causing his expulsion, and it is said, swore he would kill both of them.

This morning at 10 o'clock Stryker met Bickel at the corner of First and Main streets, and immediately rushed upon him, and with an oath, pulled his revolver and fired. Bickel dodged behind Capt. Richey, a bystander, but his assailant continued firing, one of the shots going between Richey's legs and another through the rim of his hat. J. G. McCoy, an aged man, grabbed Stryker's arm, and with the assistance of other bystanders, wrested the revolver from his hand. A crowd of people soon gathered around, who, seeing the infuriated man with a smoking revolver in his hand, shouted "shoot him, lynch him!" etc., but before the mob could get hold of him he was hurried off to the city prison. His bail was fixed at $2,000, and as no one would give security, he is now in the county jail.

A reporter found him in one of the cells, but he refused to say anything about the shooting, except that Bickel was one of the gang of assassins who were hired to kill him and he could prove it on his trial. Stryker came here from Sedalia, Mo., where his father was a respected citizen. The man who did the shooting yesterday was once mobbed and driven out of Texas for a similar offense. He is of medium height, fair complexion and has the appearance of a heavy drinker. He has a wife and family.

ALABAMA PROHIBITIONISTS.

They Meet in Convention but Cannot Agree on Future Action.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 8.—The Prohibition convention met here with about 100 delegates in attendance. J. B. Hawthorne, D. D., of Atlanta, Ga., addressed the convention and advised against forming a third party and placing a ticket in the field. After the election of temporary officers, Edward Leslie, editor of the Alabama Prohibitionist, moved that a party be organized and nominations made. The motion was bitterly opposed by a majority, and sixteen delegates, including the temporary chairman and secretary withdrew from the convention.

The main body of the convention met at 3:30 p. m. and appointed a committee to confer with the members who had withdrawn and endeavor to harmonize and adopt a platform without making nominations. The convention then adjourned until 8:30 o'clock to await the action of the committee. The members who withdrew held a meeting and agreed to elect an executive committee and make nominations regardless of the action of the main body, but appointed a committee to confer with the other committee. The two factions could not harmonize and the delegates who withdrew formed a separate organization and will nominate a full state ticket. The main convention passed a resolution asking the next legislature to pass a general local option law.

MYSTERIOUS DEATH.

An Expectant Bride Found Floating in the Maumee River.

TOLEDO, O., July 8.—Under the bridge in front of the Hotel Montreal the body of Mrs. J. L. Lilley was found floating in the Maumee river. Mrs. Lilley attended a ball last evening and returned to the hotel a little after midnight. She went at once to her room and this was the last seen of her. When found she had no clothes on. There were several cuts on different parts of her body, her face was badly bruised, and an autopsy revealed a contusion on the back of the head, although the skull was not broken.

Mrs. Lilley was a widow, formerly a resident of Jackson, Mich. She was engaged to be married next week to a gentleman, formerly from New York, named Willis. Willis stopped at the hotel Montreal, and occupied a room near her. He did not attend the ball, and claims that he knows nothing of the cause or the manner of her death. The authorities are investigating, but no arrests have yet been made. Mrs. Lilley was well educated, and in her room were found a number of beautiful paintings, said to have been the work of her own hands, among them being an unfinished portrait of her intended husband.

A Foul Murder.

BOSTON, July 8.—At about 11 o'clock last night, as Frank Reardon was groping his way through a dark entry at his home, in 6 Kenne place, he was startled by hearing groans from his mother's chamber. After lighting a lamp he found a pool of blood at the foot of the stairs and marks of blood on every step. He found his mother lying on her cot and covered only by a blood stained wrapper. Her face was bathed in blood from two severe ax wounds in her head. She murmured, "Stevens did it," and immediately sank into a comatose state. Her wounds are very serious. The victim is a widow fifty years of age, named Margaret Reardon. She lives in a poor neighborhood with her three sons. One, George Stevens, aged fifty-one, a piano mover who before had trouble with the Reardons, has been arrested on suspicion. Both he and his white wife loudly protest that they had been asleep at home all the evening.

A Vessel Gone Down.

CLEVELAND, O., July 8.—A dispatch was received here this morning from the captain of the steamer Oconto, bound from this port to the Thousand Islands, stating that that vessel had gone down last night at Fister's Island, a point between Brighton and Alexandria Bay, in the St. Lawrence river. The vessel was on her initial trip of the season, and had fifty-five excursionists on board, all of whom were saved, as were also the ship's crew. The boat is owned at Detroit, and is a total loss.
